

Crown Chakra:

The crown chakra is to communicate through times and through borders, to communicate with one who lives far away from you, or to communicate with higher consciousness levels and to be guided by teachers. At the same time to focus on past lives and to receive the answers for things which are not clear and balanced in this life.

The lotus oil scent has always been used to clear up the crown chakra, to take people away from the materialistic world, to live on a high spiritual level and to be able to communicate there.

Lotus-oil has been used in ancient Egyptian times in temples to lead Kings and Priests on a higher spiritual level, to receive universal energy to create their own world.

The power of Lotus leads the physical body on very different levels, to see clearly, it influences all other chakras in a positive way and is especially useful in meditation.

Lotus-flower grows in Egypt and China but the Chinese lotus has no smell, the only lotus flower with scent grows in Egypt.
